

Jackie Curts is a professional photographer with over 20 years of experience. She has traveled the nation shooting wildlife in its natural habitat. Closer to home, Jackie is a Naturalist who enjoys sharing her knowledge with others. She has been a photography instructor with Ivy Tech Community College and has taught various photo workshops through Indy Photo Coach.

Spring Wildflower Photography Workshop

Saturday, April 20
1 – 4 p.m.

Learn to capture the beauty of spring in photographs! This workshop is designed to develop your creative and technical skills. You will learn about composition, lighting, depth of field, creative blur, and much more. The workshop will consist of classroom time to learn to see through new eyes and a hands-on session to practice your new skills with the instructor's guidance. Bring your own camera, preferably a DSLR or bridge camera, and a tripod if you have one. Dress for the weather, as a portion of this workshop is outside. Registration is required as space is limited.

Zion Nature Center, 690 Beech Street
Ages: 16 years and older
Register at www.zionnaturecenter.org